"It is not usual to hold a composing tourney at the age of 30. But let me break the rule and show you one of my favourite themes that is not much older than myself."

(Peter Gvozdzák, lecture about Shedey cycle (and announcing the theme tourney), at the Belfort congress, summer 1994)

627-647: This large group does not include black correction, which is at the end of no bK defences. And, it starts with bQ as defending unit, then bR, bB and bS. Yet there are no examples with bP.
